Coincidentally I'm meeting with RAND, FEMA, et al tomorrow at 2pm EST to discuss the Recovery Plan. Can you do Wednesday at 2pm? If so I'll be able to have a member of our McKinsey team on PREPA join the call.

Of course and next Tuesday is great. Could do 2pm EST like we did last week but also flexible.

Just wanted to update you that I've been working with McKinsey and Citi and will have something for you later this week.

I also connected with the team at RAND but they sent me over to FEMA. I am now waiting to hear back from FEMA. Will let you know.

Thanks Noel. On the plane to San Juan right now in fact.

Pleasure meeting you Rima. Let me know how I can help.

Rima,
Per our conversation just now, Kyle Rifkind is the Deputy Legal Counsel for the FOMB. He's based in NYC but is racking up huge miles coming to San Juan weekly. Kyle is well connected with the staffers and agencies on the hill and in the Executive in DC. He is the man when it comes to PROMESA statutory questions.

Kyle,
Rima is a senior policy advisor for DoE. We've been coordinating DOE support for the PREPA transformation and fiscal plan for several weeks now. She was at the Treasury meeting in DC week before last and works closely with Bruce Walker. She had some questions regarding the language in the supplemental.

My best to you both,

Noel
